Teaching and Learning

“The essence of mathematics is not to make simple things complicated...but to make complicated things simple” (S Gudder)

Parents have a great opportunity to develop their children’s maths skills at home by involving them in everyday activities. If your children can help you find the best deal for your car insurance or work out which supermarket deal is cheapest, then it’s helping them understand maths in real life. It also helps develop their basic maths and problem solving skills, which are really important in the curriculum. Don’t underestimate yourself, or the power you have as a parent getting involved in your child’s learning.

Top Tips to Help with Maths at Home

1. Start with a positive mindset
2. Play Maths games together
3. Use Maths talk everyday
4. Develop their memory skills
5. Learn their Maths methods
6. Watch out for shapes
7. Practise reading the time
8. Use fractions in daily life
9. Times tables ...practise, practise, practise
10. Involve them with problem solving
11. Play to their love of technology

Tag Rugby

Children from Year 6 attended Tag Rugby at the Whitby Sports and Social Club this week and had a fantastic time. They developed their skills and understanding of the game. Our involvement in the Cheshire Oaks Schools Sports Partnership will enable us to take part in lots of future sporting events.
